

OFFICIALS HAVE A BIG OUTING

Make No Pretense of Drawing Salaries and Join in Day of Joy.

A. J. DAVIS IS THE STAR
DIVIDES HIS HONORS WITH PARLEY PRATT CHRISTENSEN.

Forgetting political divisions, the state, county and city officials, who pretend to earn their salaries in the city and county building, threw all pretense to the wind, yesterday and enjoyed an outing at Lagoon. Most of them enjoyed an outing during the various periods of years, but yesterday they were unbuttoning about it, and had a regular picnic. Joy was unconfined, and nobody made the slightest pretense that he was earning the salary paid him by the downtrodden taxpayer. The day will go down to history with Arthur J. Davis as its hero. Davis thinks he is a more dignified presiding officer than the speaker of the British house of commons, but he forgot yesterday that he had no dignity, and occupied the center of the comic stage most of the time. He unspooled the baseball game between the Fats and the Leans. Had it been a real baseball game Salt Lake would have been mourning the death of its council president this morning, provided enough remnants of his body could have been collected over which to hold a funeral. It was, however, a farce game, and Davis contributed to the farce.

Accounts differ as to how the game ended. Joe Eldredge says it was a tie and that Davis so ruled. Others say that the Fats won by a score of 5 to 3. Davis himself scurried to his home in a hack the minute the train landed and was incommunicado for the remainder of the night. Both sides agree that Davis' rulings were the most outrageous in the history of the national game. Davis consummated his outrages by acting as master of ceremonies at the cake walk and waltzing contests.

Parley P. Was There.

Parley P. Christensen, county attorney in fact and congressman in embryo, was next to Davis, the star attraction of the day. Parley deemed it his duty to kiss all the beauties and compliment their mothers. He put in the whole day at that stunt. He was impervious to joshing, and insisted upon regarding himself as a real candidate for congress. Efforts to convince him to the contrary were unavailing.

Two members of the judiciary, supposing they were going to a sedate picnic, joined the crowd. They were W. M. McCarty, prospective chief justice of Utah, and George C. Armstrong, who tries to be a model judge despite his natural inclination to be a good fellow. Rumor has it that Justice McCarty failed to win the waiting prize by doing a "holly roller" stunt, and that Judge Armstrong was barred out because he would not unbend enough. Governor John C. Cutler was absent. He was having a heart-to-heart talk with Reed Smoot on the advisability of calling an extra session of the legislature to pass a Salt Lake ripper bill. Ezra Thompson stayed away because he had a pressing engagement with Pat Moran to consider ways and means to bunko the labor unions and at the same time violate the eight-hour law. Chief Justice George W. Barch was not present because he was pondering on the advisability of resigning. He drew his resignation that he never meant anyway. Otherwise Salt Lake and Utah officialdom was unanimously represented. Out of respect to the principles of a majority of the crowd, root beer and vanilla soda water were the only drinks dispensed on the grounds. Apostle Penrose and Rev. W. M. Paden paired and mutually remained away.

PAT MORAN ON EIGHT-HOUR LAW

He Says Its Enforcement Will Mean Bad Streets During the Winter.

HIS MEN ARE NOT KICKING
LAYS BLAME FOR TROUBLE ON WALKING DELEGATES.

Contractor P. J. Moran yesterday assumed responsibility for the actions of four sub-contractors on city work under him who were arrested Friday for violating the state eight-hour law. As usual, Mr. Moran was cheerful about it. They want to arrest anybody let them arrest me, he said, with the famous Moran grin. "I'm responsible for it, and if they send me to jail for breaking the law the work will go on just the same. If this law holds good, however, and the courts stop me from working my men more than eight hours, a lot of streets are going to be torn up during the muddy season, which is a thing the people of this town don't want."

Men Not Kicking.

"As usual in such cases," went on Mr. Moran, "the men themselves aren't kicking. They're willing to work ten hours a day, because they get ten hours' pay. I pay them 25 cents an hour. If they work eight hours they get $2; if they work ten hours they get $2.50. Not a man has ever protested to me about it. This mess has been stirred up by a walking delegate who has to do something to earn the money paid him by his fellow workmen. The movement is against the best interests of the town and against the best interests of the men themselves. On the Big Cottonwood conduit this summer the men have occasionally worked as high as twelve hours a day in order to rush the work. Such days they have received $3 wages, and they haven't whined."

Have Worked Fourteen Hours.

"At times when I have been laying asphalt in Salt Lake the men have gone to work at 6 o'clock in the morning and worked till 8 o'clock at night, when it got too dark to work. They did it willingly, because they were paid for it. It should be borne in mind that there are three or four months in the year when common street laborers can't work on account of the weather. Most of them are perfectly willing to make up what they lose this way by working longer hours in the summer."

The main thing in laying asphalt pavement, aside from doing a good job, is to do a quick job, and put the people of the town to as little inconvenience as possible. That is why we are working our men more than eight hours a day. I don't believe this eight-hour law will apply as between a private contractor and the men working for him. I hope it won't, and I think the people of Salt Lake hope so, too. I have no notion against labor unions, but this is foolishness."

Mr. Moran intimated that he would fight the matter to a finish in the courts. The four sub-contractors will be given an examination before City Judge J. J. Whitaker sometime this week.

UTAH COUNTY SCHOOLS

Teachers and Trustees Hold Meeting and Discuss Educational Topics.

Provo, July 28.—The meeting of the Utah county trustees held in the Provo Commercial club rooms today were well attended.

The first question for discussion was the advisability of trustees visiting schools. It was the consensus of opinion that trustees should visit the schools as often as possible, and that they use their influence to get the patrons of the schools to do so. It was said that those of the patrons who visit schools frequently are the ones who are in sympathy with the teachers and the work that is being done. Complaints and kicks never come from those who keep in close touch with the work that is being done for their children.

After discussing at length the necessity of the teachers' meeting in faculty meetings, attending institutes and laboring for the betterment of their district, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the School Trustees association of Utah county, that as far as practicable, no teachers will be retained in position whose interest in school work is not evidenced in the community in which such teachers are employed, and that a gradual increase of compensation be given to those who add to their teaching qualifications by deep, living interest in the community."

The association pledged itself to pay $1 for every 100 children, or fraction of 100, enumerated in their respective districts for the purpose of furthering the educational interests of the county of Utah county fair to be held in Provo this fall.

The principal of the High schools of the county met and discussed the adoption of the outline of the University of Utah as their courses of study. Superintendent Hagersten read a letter from State Superintendent Nelson on the requirements of High school principals and teachers, and emphasized the necessity of introducing elementary agriculture in the schools. It was unanimously decided to accept the student body of the county of the High schools of the county for an entrance fee of $5. When the applicant is from a district in which there is no High school, but that pupils from a district where there is a High school shall not be permitted to attend the High school in another district.

The superintendent was authorized to secure special teachers in normal training. It was left for later decision whether their work shall be limited to institutes or include instruction in the schools.

It was decided to open school on Sept. 3, the first semester to extend to Dec. 21, and the second from Jan. 2 to May 10. The following resolution was adopted: "Be it resolved, That the trustees and High school principals of Utah county do hereby favor the convening of a special legislature to consider questions of the Agricultural college and the University of Utah."

POSTPONED FOR A SHORT PERIOD

Proletariat Organizations of Russia Not Ready to Strike Final Blow.

TERRORISTS AGAIN ACTIVE
CAMPAIGN OF MURDER IS INAUGURATED.

St. Petersburg, July 28.—It is evident that the proletariat organizations' refusal to accept the challenge at this time upon grounds of the government's choosing does not mean that it is not their intention to give battle later. Indeed, the proletariat organizations, backed by all the political parties, including the Group of Toil, Social Revolutionists, Socialists and the Peasants' League have thrown themselves into the campaign of agitation for a simultaneous general strike, to be followed by a rising in the cities and the country.

Although the time is not propitious for the peasantry, as the country is in the midst of the harvest season, the leaders believe a month or six weeks, at most, will suffice for this, and confidently expect that their campaign will be aided by the universal repressions to which the government will be compelled to resort in its policy of open warfare against revolution.

Cowardly Course.

The Constitutional Democrats are holding aloof, fearing to throw in their lot with their former allies, yet they are ready, if the masses rise and the government fails, to seize the victory.

Premier Stolypin is sincere and honest in his desire to inaugurate a policy of "strong-handed reform," but the best evidence that he is not master of the situation in his vain appeal for co-operation to men like Count Heydon, M. Shipoff and Prince Lvoff—who have seen too many well-intentioned ministers broken on the wheel when they decline to conform to the policy dictated by the court cabal.

Campaign of Murder.

The fighting organization of the Social Revolutionists, which declared a truce while parliament was in session, has decided to reopen the campaign of active terrorism. Its work will be supplemented by a similar "fighting organization" recently formed among the Social revolutionists. Over a million copies of a manifesto to the army, navy, peasants and workmen, which was adopted yesterday and already has been printed at Viborg and St. Petersburg, have been started into the interior through underground revolutionary channels.

It is learned that almost the determining factor for the postponement of a rising was the information that some fresh troops who had been introduced into St. Petersburg and Moscow were strangers to the revolutionary propaganda, having been carefully selected for this reason.

HEALTHY HAIR FOR ALL

BY USING

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

It is now possible for everyone to have healthy and rich-looking hair, by using Newbro's Herpicide, the ORIGINAL remedy that "kills the dandruff germ."

The presence of the dandruff germ in the scalp causes first, dull, brittle and lusterless hair, with later, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. All of these disagreeable symptoms will disappear, and the hair grow as nature intended, if the dandruff germ is destroyed and kept out of the scalp. Don't wait for chronic baldness for it is incurable.

FOR HOT WEATHER.

On account of its antiseptic and purifying action, Herpicide is an absolute necessity during the summer months. Dried sebaceous matter, perspiration and other impurities thrown out by the sweat glands clog up the pores of the scalp and offer an inviting field for microbic development. Herpicide opens the pores of the scalp and keeps it clean, pure and wholesome. It relieves Itchy Heat and stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

"I cannot speak too highly of Newbro's Herpicide, it keeps my hair and scalp in excellent condition."
